BOGT PHILIPPINES 13TH OF SEPTEMBER

13TH OF SEPTEMBER (a reimagination of The Insanity of Mary Girard)

The Insanity of Mary Girard Synopsis

In 1790, Mary Girard is committed to an asylum. After Mary became pregnant by another man, her husband had her declared legally insane. Now, Mary sits in a chair as the "furies" dance around and impersonate people from her past. By the end of this haunting and highly theatrical piece, she has grown rather convincingly into her diagnosis.

SYNOPSIS - Adaptation

"13 th of September" is a re-imagination of Lanie Robertson's one-act play "The Insanity of Mary Girard". Sunday Evening, Mary Girard is preparing for her last night in Pennsylvania Asylum. Now, 56, her age is visible after more than two decades re-living the moments of her life inside the asylum. While doing her daily routine and preparation with other patients, her past is dawning inside her, the memories of her mother, husband and her dear daughter are right in front of her and it seem like she's "sane" once again. As for her last night with the tranquilizing chair, she will fight and re-live the moments of lies and betrayal that has never been proven.
